

University of Toronto - Karolinska Institute

Developmental & Perinatal Biology 2018

Application
Deadline:
June 15, 2018

August 27-31
Toronto, ON

Space is limited so please apply early!

Apply now to participate in an exciting International Exchange Course

Cutting edge lectures, seminars and practical sessions covering:

- Stem Cells & Regenerative Medicine
- Pregnancy & Birth
- Respiratory/Cardiovascular System Development
- Developmental Neurobiology
- Developmental Programming

The course is open to all University of Toronto trainees!

Register at:

www.physiology.utoronto.ca/international-exchange-developmental-biology

Graduate students can receive a University credit by registering in PSL1080H!
PSL1080H space is limited, interested students must apply to Prof. Brian Cox (b.cox@utoronto.ca) by June 15, 2018.
PSL1080H runs July 4 - September 26

Supported by:

Department of Physiology,
Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology
Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto,
Heart & Stroke | Richard Lewar Centre of Excellence in Cardiovascular Research,
SickKids Research Institute,
Lunenfeld-Tanenbaum Research Institute,
Karolinska Institute

